

2 Groups Voice Protest To Lower Platte Basin Plan

... Power, Irrigation Spokesmen Favor Program

Relative peace and quiet reigned at the state capitol Wednesday during the morning session of the final public hearing on the Bureau of Reclamation's proposed plan for the development of the lower Platte River basin.

Opposition to the plan was voiced by only two groups, one an association of 25 Lancaster county farmers, and the other by a group of residents in the Shell creek valley. Favorable opinions of the plan were stated by representatives of several out-state irrigation and power districts.

F. C. Radke, representing an association of 25 Lancaster county farmers, based his opposition to the plan on the fact that it is not comprehensive. It would prevent further development of hydro-electric power production in Nebraska, and is not co-ordinated with the Missouri Valley administration which he said is to be formulated by the federal government.

Water Supply Safe.

Answering Radke's statement, Paul R. Harley, Grand Island, area engineer for the bureau of reclamation, said the argument that the proposed development is not comprehensive is not based on fact, since any area desiring irrigation from the Platte river has been included in the plan. He said Salt and Wahoo creeks were not considered as part of the plan because the people in those areas had exhibited no desire for irrigation to be developed.

George W. Kline, representing the Linoma Power company, said a nine year study of the two creeks had been made by a firm of engineers and their support will be presented to congress at a later date.

In answer to Radke's statement that total consumption of the lower Platte and Elkhorn river water above Ashland would endanger the water supply of Lincoln, Harley stated that according to present estimates, approximately 75,000 acre feet of water are consumed by all the municipalities along the Platte, while the development program, in full operation, would still leave one million acre feet of water flowing

First Federal Reports Assets Of $6,104,354

Mrs. E. M. Forsyth Is Re-elected President

The First Federal Savings and Loan association announced total assets of $6,104,354.12 for the year ending Dec. 31, 1948, at the annual directors meeting Wednesday.

Mortgage loans totaled $5,317,533.13 with new loans made during 1948 amounting to $1,204,711.11.

The association has share accounts of $4,936,808.47. A dividend rate of 2 and a half per cent was paid to investors and substantial additions made to reserves, the association reported.

Mrs. E. M. Forsyth, the association's re-elected president, said that the mortgage trend was downward. She said that total filings for Lancaster county in home mortgages were $1,395,587.23 in September and $797,711 in December.

"Older properties were selling for less," Mrs. Forsyth continued, "while prices on new homes are being sustained because the replacement costs have continued high. There is every evidence that this condition will remain for some time."

The housing shortage remains in Lincoln, but the demand is for houses selling under $10,000. The association will take an active part in promoting construction of homes in that class.

The association reported conditions "excellent" and closed the year with only $18.39 uncollected interest.

W. C. Hornung, John E. Dean, and Mary W. Dailey were elected directors and William J. Seibold, Jr., was elected secretary-treasurer.

He said, "There has never been a year that we did not need additional water in the Loup basin."

Babcock Backs Program.
Richard F. Nosky, engineer of the Mid-State project and North Platte city engineer, said, "I feel certain that with this plan we can go forward. The Mid-State project should and can be integrated in this plan."

A similar opinion was stated by A. C. Tilley, Hastings, chief engineer and general manager of the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation district and the Tri-County district. He stated the problem could possibly be best handled by negotiation among the power and irrigation districts in the state, rather than by law. He said he hoped the negotiations would begin soon so the development could go forward.

Senator Ray Babcock, president of the Nebraska Reclamation association, told those attending the hearing, "The time has come when the complete development of all natural resources in the state is necessary for self-preservation."

Also speaking for the state reclamation association, Mrs. Marcella Allen, said, "The bureau will continue to attempt to keep people interested in this plan. Here is an offer by the federal government to be used by this state in a way that would bring back revenues many times over the cost."

F. W. Klietsch, state engineer, presided at the hearing.

RATHBONE SUIT AGAINST GAS COMPANY OPENS

A consolidated jury trial was begun Wednesday morning in Federal court here in the cases of Hazel V. Rathbone and Harvey Rathbone, her husband, against the Central Electric and Gas company.

Mr. and Mrs. Rathbone are each asking $25,000 from the gas company as a result of injuries suffered when Mrs. Rathbone fell in company offices in November, 1946, and broke her hip. Mrs. Rathbone asks payment for personal injury and Mr. Rathbone asks damages for medical expenses and loss of services.

In opening statements before the jury Wednesday morning, attorneys for the plaintiffs claimed Mrs. Rathbone's injuries resulted from negligence on the part of the gas company and that the injuries will have a life-long effect. Attorneys for the defendant company stated there was no negligence and said the extent of Mrs. Rathbone's injuries was open to question. They admitted she did fall in the office and suffer some injury.

Elsie Pierson, sales supervisor of the gas company, was called to the stand Wednesday morning to testify as to the nature of the platform, raised above the main floor of the salesroom, upon which her office is located. Mrs. Rathbone fell from the platform, which is several inches above the floor.

The jury was empaneled and instructed by Federal Judge John W. Delehant Tuesday afternoon.

Peoples Now Mutual Reserve Insurance Firm

Expansion Program
To Be Considered

The Peoples Accident Insurance company formally became a mutual legal reserve insurance form Wednesday, following action at the annual meeting of policyholders.

The formal amendment of the articles of incorporation completed plans begun 10 years ago, when the company was founded. Although the company was organized as a mutual assessment company, it always operated as a mutual reserve firm.

The policyholders unanimously voted to direct company officers to study plans for entering additional states. Until now, the company has operated only in Nebraska.

Prospects Excellent.

"The prospects for 1949 are excellent and a good year should be expected," J. P. Van Vliet, president, said in his report to the group. "Health and accident insurance is being purchased by all classes of people, denoting a substantial growth in this type of insurance."

"Amendment of the articles and by-laws thus brings to a happy close plans which originated 10 years ago," he stated. "It is another worthwhile event in the life of a Lincoln insurance company."

The company's assets totaled $351,482, an increase of 18.5 per cent over 1947. Government bond holdings represented 73 per cent of the assets and with cash on hand amounted to 90 per cent of the asset total.

Increase in premiums in force amounted to 14 per cent. Losses paid were normal, but did show a 20 per cent increase over 1947, President Van Vliet said. Lapses were normal.

The company's officers and board of directors, all re-elected, are:

J. P. Van Vliet, president and director.
John E. Van Vliet, vice president and director.
C. P. Van Vliet, secretary-treasurer and director.

J. R. Evans, supervisor and director.
A. W. Mason, assistant secretary and office manager.
Mrs. A. G. Van Vliet, director.
Littell and Fritz, general counselors.

Dividends Of Federal Savings Hiked

R. H. Mohrman Says
In Annual Report

Excellent mortgage collections and a 12 per cent increase in the mortgage account of the firm were listed by R. H. Mohrman, secretary, in his report to the annual meeting of shareholders of the Lincoln Federal Savings and Loan association Wednesday.

Dividends paid shareholders were increased to 2.5 per annum during 1948, described by him as "a very satisfactory and profitable year of the association." A strong liquid position is being maintained and all re-purchases requested were paid on demand, he said.

All the association's officers were re-elected. They are:

Frederick L. Wolff, president.
Lulu Runge, vice president.
Ira D. Beynon, vice president and counsel.

R. H. Mohrman, secretary-treasurer.
W. A. Selleck, H. J. Amen, Mr. Wolff and Miss Runge were re-elected members of the board of directors for a three-year term.

He said the college is setting up a five-year training course for rural ministers. The first four years lead to an ag degree and the fifth would be in the field of religion, he explained.

Dr. J. O. Nelson, executive secretary of the Iowa interchurch council at Des Moines, told the group about summer church camps. He said the trend is toward churches owning their own grounds and developing camps for youth recreation and educational purposes.

Rev. W. Gilbert Wise of Lincoln, Lutheran settlement director for Nebraska, was to speak on displaced person of Europe late in the afternoon. Guy Davis, state rural youth leader, directed recreational activities for the ministers.

Police give many persons their only first-hand conception of our system of law and justice, Nebraska Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons told Lincoln's annual police school Tuesday night.

"If these people are treated fairly and honestly they will have faith in our institutions," Justice Simmons declared.

Other speakers were George McSwain, FBI special agent in charge of the Chicago bureau, on "Professionalizing Police Work," and R. A. McConnell, Jr., Lincoln editor, on "Police and Press Relations."

HER SECRET STAR

By Bennie C. Hall

Chapter 8.
"All right, all right, Gertie." Her father smiled indulgently. "You don't have to get so excited about it. Nobody's stopping you. You're taking the new car. And you're going to the Congregational church to see the pretty new minister. Okay, okay. Far as I can see, one church is as good as another. As long as you go—that's the important thing. Eh, Minniebelle?"

Minniebelle's face crumpled and the tears, which she had been holding in check for some time, began to roll down her cheeks. Pressing her napkin to her face, she pushed her chair back, got up and left the room, her whole body shaking with sobs.

David stared after her in undisguised surprise. "Holy Moses, what's come over her? I've never known her to cry before. Didn't know she could cry."

"What did happen, Betty? Gertie and her mom have a falling-out or something?"

Betty hesitated. "No—er—yes. Well, they did have a few words. But you heard Gertrude admit she was sorry. And I'm sure Aunt Minniebelle is really quite sick. She should be in bed, but she just won't give up. Her cold's been getting worse all day, and—"

"Sick?" David pushed back his plate, his face registering both apology and concern. "I didn't know Minniebelle was sick."

"I'll go up stairs," Betty said. "Maybe she'll let me do something for her—now. I've been trying all afternoon, but she wouldn't let me." She pushed back her plate and got up from the table. "I'll get her to bed if I can; then I'll come down and clear up the dishes."

When Betty came downstairs half an hour later, Gertrude and David were waiting in the living room.

"Everything under control?" asked David. Evidently his anxiety over his wife had been superseded by anxiety over his daughter. "Good girl, Betty. Pretty soft having a nurse in the house."

Betty tried to smile at his false gaiety. "But I'm not really a nurse," she reminded him. "I was only in training a little while." Her face sobered. "And everything's not under control. I'm afraid Aunt Minniebelle's very sick. I don't want to scare you and Gertrude. I did everything I could to make her comfortable but—well, her fever is a hundred and four, and I—I'm scared. I'm afraid it's pneumonia."

Things happened fast after that. Betty had scarcely finished speaking before David was at the telephone calling Doctor Hammett. But Hammett, an elderly man, was confined to his bed with gripe and could not come. Mrs. Hammett, who answered the phone, suggested a doctor in North Carrollton. Here again David met with no success. Doctor Murphy, it seemed, was out on a labor case and would not be back before morning.

"Well," said David, "I suppose there's nothing to do but call that new doctor—what's his name, Gertie?"

"Doctor Newton," Gertrude answered promptly. "Doctor George Newton."

David, muttering something about young upstarts who wouldn't know a case of pneumonia if it ran into them and smacked them down, made the call.

"Newton will be right over," he told the girls as he came away from the telephone. "It's probably the first call he's had. And I don't mind saying I'd sooner have a veterinarian, if I knew where to get a good one."

"But what's wrong with Doctor Newton?" Betty wanted to know. "If he's not an accredited doctor, he shouldn't be practicing medicine."

"Well"—David hesitated—"he's an accredited doctor all right. Don't know as I can say what's wrong with him—yet. He's a newcomer; hasn't been here long. Therefore folks aren't trusting him to the extent of putting their lives in his hands. Matter of fact, he's got to prove himself before he gets any practice around here."

Betty's first glimpse of Doctor George Newton was across Gertrude's blonde curls as the girl ran to him and, between sobs, demanded that he "do something for Mother." Gertrude had rushed to the door and opened it the moment she heard the car enter the driveway.

Somehow his general appearance convinced Betty that Aunt Minniebelle would be in good hands. She smiled a vote of confidence in his direction, but he did not see her. He was looking through and beyond her at David Warren who stood at the foot of the stairs, waiting.

David spoke to the doctor, briefly, then led the way upstairs, the very line of his back expressing disapproval.

Betty could not help wondering how Doctor Newton could manage to minister to Aunt Minniebelle—what with Gertrude's incessant "do-somethings" and Uncle Dave's disapproving eyes upon him. The young man, however, solved that problem immediately. Signalling to Betty to stay, he motioned the others to leave the room, which they did.

New Platte Valley Wells

That half-million-dollar Lincoln city water plant improvement program, shortly to get under way in modest fashion and to proceed gradually, is one of the best investments which the community will make.
A preliminary in the first steps was the call for bids for five new wells, augmenting the present pumping facilities, to be sunk in the Platte valley sands near Ashland. These five wells will increase Lincoln's potential water supply daily from 13½ million gallons every 24 hours to 20 million gallons, or increase it a little more than half the present capacity. Nothing comes nearer to community needs than an inexhaustible, dependable, adequate supply of water for home use, for business and industry, for fire protection, and for all other purposes.
That, however, is only part of a far-sighted, sound program of betterment. It will be necessary to enlarge the plant for water treatment, to install high-capacity pumps, and to construct a booster station. Finally it is contemplated to add larger feeder mains which supply certain sections of the city, and in those areas where the mains, some of them more than 50 years old, are inadequate to meet present needs, to replace them.
Generous rains in the fall, and heavy snowfall have tended to allay any fears that subsoil moisture will be deficient with the coming of the spring. But the city of Lincoln, with a gratifying population growth in recent years, with new residential sections, all contributing to increased demands for water, was operating on a rather narrow margin. In addition to the Ashland pumping facilities, other wells contribute 4 million gallons daily, and Lincoln has a storage tank capacity of 27 million gallons. But one 24-hour period last summer, which was not an excessively hot summer, and which with the exception of a brief period was blessed with abundant moisture, found consumption running to more than 27 million gallons. At that rate storage was adequate to meet only a single day's needs. The increased pumping facilities are more efficient and economical than added storage.

That is asking a great deal of human flesh, either in the person of Dean Acheson, or any other living soul. It is a requirement that he accurately read other men's minds, develop a capacity to look into their hearts, in the role of a judge to have the wisdom of Solomon of old. For upon it, upon Acheson, rests one of the biggest jobs of our times. For this reason Senator Wherry's comment that it is common knowledge Mr. Acheson has been an appeaser of Russia is so superficial, so boyish, so wholly lacking in understanding of the delicate, impressive character of America's position in the world as to bring dismay to his people, to depress them, to irritate them. We have a right to expect greater stature.

Inaugural Notes

We doubt seriously whether the collection of a ticket tax will bother those who gather in Washington Thursday for President Truman's inauguration. . . . After paying travel expenses, hotel bills, and what not, a few dollars one way or another will not deter or encourage any of the inaugural visitors. . . . Through a combination of circumstances this inaugural is one of the strangest on record. . . . The money to defray its expenses was voted by the 80th congress, republican-controlled, in the expectation of memorializing the party's return to power. . . . That it turned out differently was not a part of the original plan.

The Blushing Groom

Emily Post has gotten into the hair of many, but we never anticipated the day when she and her creed of etiquette would become the center of sturdy legislative discussion.
It all arises over the $3 fee which Nebraska county judges charge for tying the knot, the revenue thus deriving going into the county general fund. There is a bill before the present session to eliminate the $3 fee.
Discussion of its provisions ranged over a wide field from the testimony of a North Dakota official, who said he had performed more than 300 ceremonies in 1948, to the observation by Sen. John

... THE DIGNITY OF THE LAW

A great many American newspapers carried a picture of the crowd gathered outside the building in New York where the top-ranking leaders of the communist party went on trial on the charge of conspiring to overthrow the government of the United States. We haven't the slightest notion how many people who glanced at the picture gave it any more thought than to satisfy natural curiosity. But it was an impressive thing, thought-provoking, challenging, as a news "shot."

In this country, especially in the federal courts, we have clothed law with a great deal of dignity and solemnity, befitting the golden principle of even-handed justice. We enforce the most rigorous rules of behavior in the courtroom, rules governing the spectators, applying to the witnesses, to the lawyers participating in the proceedings, to the learned judge, to everyone. Through the long years we have created in painstaking fashion a widely recognized portrait of what we call the judicial atmosphere, free from excitement, from prejudice, from currents that have no direct bearing upon the issues to be decided in judicial proceedings.

The news accounts spoke of the crowds gathering outside, of a large police escort, presumably to insure proper behavior. Yet the circumstances suggest in spite of the fitting precautionary steps taken that here is something new and troubling in the operation of American justice. It is not an American technique; in its essence it is entirely foreign to this country, to the thinking of people, to the conduct of court proceedings, to every notion that we have developed in the long,

Adams that if the state makes money by marriage, commercialism takes the sacredness out of the institution. Perhaps the judge's fee is a very mild initiation into what is to come.

Then there was the question as to how the fee should be paid to conform to the best conceptions of polite society. Douglas County Judge Robert R. Troyer quoted social arbiters to the effect that the fee was to be placed in an envelope, handed to his honor privately and without display. How insensitive it would be to the circumstances, he added, should a judge tear open the envelope to find whether it contained the required three dollars. Now and then in his experience it was less, so the judge was compelled to dig into his own pocket.
Any groom who would chisel on the marriage fee in our judgment is a poor risk.

One Of Six

It was a foregone conclusion Dean Acheson would be confirmed for the post of secretary of state, and he was, 83 to 6, but not with the blessing of Nebraska's Senator Kenneth Wherry. Self-styled "Slug It Out" Ken, in the best traditions of the ring, went down battling. It cannot be said that Senator Wherry did not try. Listen to this from the news reports of the vote on confirmation: "Mr. Wherry told his colleagues he was going to vote against confirmation because 'it is common knowledge that Mr. Acheson has been an appeaser of Russia.'"

Of course, it is common knowledge that Senator Wherry possesses, or is presumed to possess superior sources of information to the common mine run of Tom, Dick and Harry. He must be better informed than a distinguished party colleague, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who at the same session of the senate praised Mr. Acheson's "long, distinguished" career in public service, added that he always had found him "reliable, helpful, co-operative and trustworthy," and entitled to be "affirmatively recommended."

If Senator Wherry is right, then not only republican patriarch leader Senator Vandenberg, and 35 other distinguished republican senators are wrong. In this 81st congress there are 42 republican members of the senate. In the vote on confirmation there were only six out of a senate membership of 96 recorded in opposition to Acheson, a curious, strange, lonely group—Capehart and Jenner of Indiana, moss-backed reactionaries, frequent critics of American foreign policy—Bridges of New Hampshire, Langer of North Dakota, Knowland of California, and Nebraska's Wherry.

The question Senator Wherry raises is not academic in the development of American foreign policy. We are inclined to think that in his column on this page today the distinguished columnist, Marquis Childs, puts it so admirably. The notion Acheson is a Russian appeaser is absurd, he says. The fear that Mr. Acheson in a firm, uncompromising attitude toward Russia may become blinded to possible opportunities for establishing a better understanding with Russia is real, genuine. It could not be phrased better. There are not many alternatives open in the undertaking to promote world peace. We can adopt a bleak, forbidding attitude to every move that Russia makes. It would be firm, uncompromising. We can be firm on details that are fundamental and conciliatory where little or no importance is attached, seeking common agreement. But one grave mistake we will make is to permit our blood pressure to reach the point where anything that bears a Russian label, good or bad, clothed in good faith or worthless as an expression of faith, is damned the moment it makes its appearance. In short, we must in the prevailing conditions in the world, explore every avenue and exhaust all means, to reach understanding.

That is asking a great deal of human flesh, either in the person of Dean Acheson, or any other living soul. It is a requirement that he accurately read other men's minds, develop a capacity to look into their hearts, in the role of a judge to have the wisdom of Solomon of old. For upon it, upon Acheson, rests one of the biggest jobs of our times. For this reason Senator Wherry's comment that it is common knowledge Mr. Acheson has been an appeaser of Russia is so superficial, so boyish, so wholly lacking in understanding of the delicate, impressive character of America's position in the world as to bring dismay to his people, to depress them, to irritate them. We have a right to expect greater stature.

Salary Adjustments

Apparently at the eleventh hour the legislation drafted originally to provide for a salary increase for President Truman was shorn of provisions for salary hikes for members of the cabinet, other key government posts. We are inclined to think that action is wise. In final form the bill now covers only the president, the vice-president, and the speaker. There is still the matter of administrative reorganization as outlined in the report of the Hoover commission and until congress acts upon it salary schedules for administrative officials should wait. It will be difficult enough to consolidate some agencies without making their retention more attractive.

gradual development of our conception of the dignity and the majesty of the law. In this instance the defendants have nothing to do with the crowds which gathered, we are quite sure; counsel for the defense was in no way responsible. If it had been one of those racy, spectacular, and dirty trials that sometimes develop, it would be understandable because the anticipation of sensational testimony not infrequently has packed them in. But those crowds came to mull over every victim's testimony, to get the "dirt," while this proceeding, which may drag out for six months to become an historic landmark in American justice, day after day will embrace the most technical type of testimony. The crowds in New York were there, apparently, not to attend the proceedings, but simply to mill around.

Recently a great Midwest university held a forum of the air, and the subject most appropriately was the question of justice. This is the age of justice, the age of law, the individual application of right- and wrong-doing to each individual constituting the government of the United States, and in all of the little details we shall want to watch developments in their unseen effect upon the delicate system of justice which we have perfected in this country. It is by no means perfect, but it is the best system intelligence and decent purposes civilized man has created for the protection of his own freedom.

This has nothing to do with the guilt or innocence of the men who go on trial. Law itself is a product of society and is strengthened or weakened by society by recognition of the type of climate under which it flourishes best.

OFF THE RECORD

"It's been nice seeing you, Larry, glad you dropped in!"
THE DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—January is a month when we have come to think of inaugurating presidents and of raising money for children who cannot walk.
In addition to children, newspapermen became so long accustomed to a president who also could not walk, that they have been a little slow to realize that the president of the United States can now drop in on his friends in Capitol Hill without the least effort, and can amble in and out of the capitol's entrances as fast as anyone else when he takes the oath of office.

For so many years was it necessary to build long, slanting ramps up inclines in order to avoid steps for the president, the people in Washington became quite accustomed to it and took it for granted.
And during all the years Franklin Roosevelt was in office, the newspapers, including those hostile to him, said almost nothing about his infirmity. Even in private conversation people did not talk too much about the fact that the president could not walk. They just felt sorry for him and didn't mention it.

ELEANOR KEFAUVER, the seven-year-old daughter of Senator Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, (above) believes the United States revolves around her daddy's state, and invited all of her little school chums to ride on the Tennessee float in the inaugural parade.

Only on his birthday was his infirmity brought home to the public, and then in order to help others stricken with his dread affliction.

Today this column recalls these facts because as Franklin Roosevelt's birth again approaches, and as the span of years since his death increases, it is only natural that the money-raising effort which he inspired should somewhat diminish. Therefore here is an idea which may help revitalize it—an idea by which one president can help the work started by another.

Harry Truman not only can walk, but he can play the piano. And despite the advice of his daughter to stick to his few favorite tunes, a lot of people think he plays rather well. They enjoy hearing him.

Only a very few of the American people, however, have had the pleasure of hearing him. He has played at the dinners of the Oklahoma oil heiress friend, Mrs. Perle Mesta. He has played at the Press club, and in the privacy of the White House.
And while it might not be dignified for the president of the United States to play before a large audience, there could be nothing wrong with Harry Truman's making two or three records for the American people for the benefit of Roosevelt's infantile paralysis fund.

For instance, if the president should make a phonograph record of his old favorites, "Missouri Waltz" and "Achores Aweigh," I predict they would sell in the millions.

Furthermore if Daughter Margaret sang to her father's accompaniment, more millions would accumulate for the infantile paralysis fund.
To test out the idea, I put it before Fred Albert, head of ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers). Albert has written a good many songs himself, including two which sold over two million—"I'll Get By" and Bing Crosby's theme song, "Where the Blue of the Night Meets the Gold of the Day." So he can be considered something of an authority on music. Furthermore, as head of ASCAP he is something of an authority on the sale of records.

Fred Albert's reaction was immediate. He volunteered to obtain a waiver of all royalty rights

THINKS PANSING IS OFFSIDE.

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a resident of Lincoln and a reader of The Lincoln Star, I was rather disturbed by an article in Monday's paper where a Mr. Pansing of our city council complained that the police took time, cars and gas for the distribution of the "March of Dimes" collection. Isn't this a little small for a councilman? I am sure no taxpayer of this city would make such a complaint. Maybe these are the things we should think about before going to the polls.

STAR READER.
TREND OF PRICES.

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the discussion of the raise to $60 per month for the aged, Senator Schroeder stated that the cost of living was coming down. Thousands of Lincoln housewives would be pleased to have the senator quote some of the price drops and point out where they could go to get them. He also said that many on the assistance rolls could help themselves by procuring jobs. They also would like to ask Mr. Schroeder just what the jobs are. No one wants an old man to work for him, and practically all businesses let their 65-year-old employees go even though they have worked for the firm for 35 or 40 years. Up until the special session of the 1945 legislature the ceiling for the aged was $40. The special session raised the ceiling to $50. Under the $40 ceiling the average grant was $33 per month. Under the $50 ceiling the average (Nov., 1946) was $44.65. It was also stated that the department could exceed the ceiling. If I remember rightly the 75-25 allowance was for medical care above the $50 ceiling and not for general upkeep of the aged. If the ceiling is raised to $60 I think the department could raise the general upkeep for those below the ceiling as has been done since the $50 ceiling was adopted.

PRIZE FOR YOUNG DEMOCRATS.

Blair, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Congratulations to Don Morrow and his Lancaster county democratic group for standing up to Mr. Taylor, president of the Nebraska Young Democrat club. In my judgement it was an absurd and ridiculous demand that the Lancaster group purge themselves of a member who purportedly supported Henry Wallace last July. I question the latter's action, not because he supported for a time an alleged friend of communism—which is far-fetched at best—but rather because he chose to support Henry Wallace, who has never really been a democrat but who was the greater part of his life a bulwark of the republican party in Iowa.
As an active member of the Lancaster County Young Democrats between the years of 1935 and 1946, I know of what I speak when I state that there never was a time in that protracted period of political history when the Lancaster group did not have more paid-up and active members than the combined totals of 40-50 other counties in Nebraska. Tremendous strides have been made in once all-republican Lancaster county by the democratic party. It is be-

WASHINGTON CALLING
MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Few men in American public life have had the opportunity and, at the same time, the burden of responsibility that Dean Acheson has. The new secretary of state will enter office with the confidence and friendship of the president and responsible leaders in congress.
In the department he takes over he will find associates with whom he had worked on intimate terms while he was under secretary. One of the advantages in Acheson's appointment is that he begins with a broad range of experience and background.
He was in part responsible for the appointment of George F. Kennan to head the state department's planning staff. Contrary to rumors circulated since the president appointed Acheson, the two men worked well together. In fact, when Acheson's good friend, Justice Felix Frankfurter gave him a dinner at the time of his retirement as under secretary, one of the two close associates present from the department was Kennan. The other was Charles E. Bohlen, now counselor of the department. Bohlen, regarded as one of the ablest and most knowledgeable experts on foreign affairs, particularly in the Russian sphere, also worked closely with Acheson.

The new secretary will, of course, be faced with the necessity for major changes. If Walter Bedell Smith, when he ends his vacation, informs the president that he cannot for reasons of health and income return to his post as ambassador to Russia, the president will accept his resignation willingly.

General Smith should not be asked to return. Two years and more of the solitary confinement that is the American embassy in Moscow is enough to make the most dispassionate and objective man lose his perspective.
In other diplomatic posts abroad the United States is inadequately or badly represented. Changes, to be made gradually and tactfully, are essential.
A drastic overhaul is due also in the field of Latin-American relations. The deterioration there has gone a long way and the prestige and influence of this country have suffered greatly, as we seem to have condoned or even encouraged coming more obvious each election. Much of this advance can be attributed to an active, progressive group of interested and militant young democracy.

Mr. Taylor had better look farther afield for headlines. One day the leadership of both young and old democrat groups of Nebraska will rest in eastern Nebraska—east of a line drawn slightly west of Lincoln—where the great preponderance of true democrat strength and loyal support has ever rested.

DEWEY NEMETZ.

SUREST PATH TO PEACE.

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Abraham Lincoln once said: "I can see how a person can look down upon the earth and be an atheist, but I cannot see how a person can look up into the heavens and say there is no God." With that statement I agree.
Looking up on a starlit night we say with the psalmist:
"The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth his handiwork: day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge."
Everything is peace and harmony and beauty up there; the planets move around the sun with mathematical precision; the sun rises and sets so quietly it does not disturb the slumber of a child. But looking down on the earth what do we see? Hate, strife, war, indescribable wickedness in high and low places, men and women said to have been created in the image of God are reverting to beasts, with apology to the beasts. Even the forces of nature are in rebellion, with blinding blizzards, tornadoes, floods, earthquakes, devastating fires, so that one is tempted to ask, "Is there a God, and if so does He care?"
I cannot be an atheist. I cannot account for a creation without a creator. I know that God is and that He cares, but we have rejected Him and are suffering

Family Of 9 Loses House In Explosion

... Near Ashland

ASHLAND, Neb.—A stove explosion has been blamed for the blaze destroying the four-room farm house of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Welton Tuesday afternoon.

No one was injured in the blast, although Mrs. Welton was in the kitchen with her back to the stove at the time of the explosion. She wrapped herself in a blanket and ran to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Loretta Butler, about half a block up the road, and then returned to the burning home to save the family's belongings.

Little Saved.

Only a washing machine and dresser were saved. Besides serving as a home for the Weltons and their seven children, the house was also the headquarters for Mr. Welton's fish-bait business.

Mrs. Butler sent word to the Ashland fire department by a passing motorist. However, the blaze was out of control when the firemen arrived at the scene. The Welton farm is one and a half miles northeast of Ashland on highway No. 6.

One of the children, ranging in age from 18 months to 11 years were in the house at the time of the blast.

Tax Problem Up Again At Board

The old problem of where does a person, living in Lincoln but maintaining legal residence elsewhere, pay his county taxes popped up again Tuesday.

Col. James C. Short, an army officer now stationed in Lincoln, appeared before the county commissioners at the meeting Tuesday and asked to have his payment of $28.53 for personal taxes refunded.

After being satisfied that the colonel had paid similar taxes in his home state of Texas, the board authorized the county treasurer to refund the money.

The army officer, who secured his auto license plates here last year, will pay his county motor vehicle tax here. But Commissioner Ira L. Vorhies said he could see no reason why "anyone should pay his other taxes twice."

One Lincoln man, who had just received his auto license plates dropped in on the meeting with a proposal to speed up their handling.

The commissioners, with an eye cocked to the joint city-county building idea, told the gentleman to "get us a building big enough to have room for employees to do this work."

In other action the board moved to up the monthly pay of those caring for dependent children from $35 to $40. The board plans to discuss other pay adjustments in the first meeting of February.

Y Groups Meet—A joint "get acquainted" meeting of the Y's Men's club and the Y.M.C.A. Phalanx fraternity was held Tuesday night at the Y.M.C.A.

Officials Approve Chicagoan's Claim For Celestial Space

CHICAGO — (INS) — It's all right for Chicagoan James Thomas Mangan to proclaim the existence of a new sovereign state, "Celestia."

At least it's all right with Cook county officials who recorded his claim for all celestial space except that occupied by the heavenly bodies.

State's Attorney John S. Boyle voiced no objections to the press agent's claim.

Mangan said he will notify the United Nations and all countries of his claim.

Mrs. Louisa Fleming, Long-Time University Place Resident, Dies

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Ida Moore, Holdrege, and Mrs. Margaret Rose, Trenton; one son, Ernest C., Lincoln; one brother, Elmer House, LaGrange, Ky.; three grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Receipts Of City Parking Meters Up

Receipts of the city's old parking meters averaged $8.57 per meter during December, 1948, as against an average of $8.05 per meter during December of 1947.

With 635 old meters in operation during the last month, receipts were $5,445.17. During December, 1947, total receipts were $4,794.02 from 595 meters. Receipts of 399 meters installed during the spring totaled $2,706.26, or an average of $6.78 per meter.

BING CROSBY GOING TO CBS NEXT FALL

... He's Third Radio Plum Picked In Talent Raid

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Bing Crosby moves to CBS next fall. The "Old Groaner" is the third prize radio plum picked by Columbia Broadcasting System in its talent raid on rival networks. They've snatched him from NBC.

A sudden announcement by William S. Paley, CBS board chairman now in Hollywood, said last night that CBS and Crosby have reached an agreement whereby the singer will be heard over CBS beginning next fall and for "an extended period."

It added that the arrangement covers radio and television shows, but no immediate television appearances are planned.

Paley gives no details as to contract of financial arrangements. CBS spokesmen said they were in the dark, too. Presumably the question of whether Bing will be moved from his long-standing Wednesday night spot on the air would be up to his next sponsors, whoever that may be.

Whether Crosby will continue to record his show, as he has done with ABC, or return to live broadcasts is another question so far unanswered.

Radio Row speculated that Paley had a chance to get Crosby, made a fast deal while the opportunity was there and is leaving details for later consideration.

The announcement came the same night as the latest Hooper ratings announced in New York, showed that CBS now has seven places in the top 15 Hooper-rated programs, NBC holding five and ABC three.

Winchell Tops List. ABC's Walter Winchell tops the list, CBS' Jack Benny and Radio Theater are second third, respectively, and NBC's Fibber McGee and Molly is fourth.

Sunday night is a fiercely competitive one, with CBS featuring Benny, Amos 'n' Andy, Spike Jones and Sam Spade against NBC's Horace Heidt, Ozzie and Harriet, Phil Harris and Alice Faye and Fred Allen, and ABC's Winchell.

Wednesday night has been a potent ABC night with Groucho Marx, Crosby and Meredith Wilson aired against such NBC competition as Duffy's Tavern, Gidderlee and Mr. District Attorney and CBS' Music Hall and Dr. Christian.

CBS quoted Crosby, who has a terrific look forward with great pleasure to my return to the network which gave me my start in radio.

He was with CBS early in his career in the 1930's, after moving to NBC and switching to ABC three years ago.

Fund Need At Orthopedic Is Explained

Dr. Alcorn Cites Higher Salaries, Expanded Staff

Higher salaries for employees, plus a change from a 48 to a 44-hour week were the basic reasons given by Dr. F. A. Alcorn, superintendent of the Orthopedic hospital, for increased requests in tax appropriations during the next biennium.

Dr. Alcorn told a budget subcommittee of the state legislature Tuesday afternoon that the shorter work week has made it necessary to increase the number of employees at the hospital from 93 to 120, most of which are nurses aides.

Dr. Alcorn said a total of $523,772 in tax appropriations has been requested for operating the hospital during the next biennium, as compared with $403,030 appropriated for the last two years.

48 Patients at Hospital. Less cash income from care of polio patients is also expected to cut down on operating funds, Dr. Alcorn said. He explained that during the current biennium an estimated $80,000 will be paid to the hospital for such care. However, with three new treatment centers for polio in the state and an expected recession in the number of cases, during the next year, this figure is expected to drop considerably.

Meanwhile, the subcommittee was told that only four of 88 polio patients treated at the hospital during last summer's epidemic still remain in the hospital. The hospital now has a total of 48 patients, less than half the capacity of 110. Dr. Alcorn said the number began to fall off shortly before Christmas and is still continuing its downward trend.

Inspect Sprinkler System. However, he stated the belief that the hospital's population would gradually increase and probably be up to capacity next summer.

Also examined by the subcommittee was a sprinkling system installed in the old south wing of the hospital after the wing was condemned by the state fire marshal two years ago. Dr. Alcorn said the system has made the wing almost fireproof and now meets the requirements of the fire marshal. That part of the building is currently used as employees quarters, dining rooms and the nursery.

Certification Change Given Committee O.K.

High School Normal Graduates Limited To One Year Of Teaching

A bill prohibiting more than one year of teaching with only high-school normal training was approved Tuesday by the education committee of the legislature.

Under LB 55, graduates of the high-school normal training course would not have to take state teachers examinations to get certificates, but would need nine hours of college study before being allowed to teach a second year.

To teach a third year, nine more college hours would be required. The law at present permits three years of teaching after high school normal training graduation and passing of 17 state teachers tests.

Floor Fight Expected. Similar bills have been fought and defeated by past legislatures. A floor fight on this bill is also expected.

Described as a compromise measure, the bill is aimed at increasing the number of teachers, as well as raising their qualifications, State Supt. Wayne O. Reed told the committee.

He explained that this bill is a "happy medium" agreement between supporters of normal training and those who want to eliminate it completely.

Only opposition to the legislation came from Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill who urged the committee to extend the teaching period from one to two years.

After relating some of the difficulties rural schools have in getting teachers, Sen. Nelson pointed out that often girls from poor families haven't enough money to go to college after only one year of teaching.

In that respect, Nelson said, the bill might decrease the number of teachers.

Also approved was a bill providing for new elementary teaching certificates, with stiffer qualifications.

The bill requires four years of college for initial senior elementary certificates and permits teaching kindergarten to ninth grade, inclusive. The present law certifies teaching kindergarten to 10th grade, inclusive, after three years of college. Two higher certificates would require additional college work and actual experience.

Third Bill Moved. W. A. Rosenc, state director of teacher certification, told the legislators that the bill would permit Nebraska to take part in a twelve-state reciprocal program of certification.

The committee also moved to general file a bill providing that a committee appointed by the state superintendent would be responsible for accrediting public and private elementary and secondary schools.

Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, University of Nebraska director of admissions, said the bill would merely legalize a practice carried on since 1921.

Veterinarian Bill Killed At Introducer's Request

Sen. O. H. Person of Wahoo appearing before the public health committee of the legislature Tuesday vehemently denied that LB 14 was introduced for the benefit of the veterinarians. During the hearing Sen. Person moved that the bill be killed. It would have required vaccination of livestock and other practices to be done by a licensed veterinarian, unless done gratuitously.

"It is an effort to stop quackery," Sen. Person declared. "The bill is designed to afford the same protection to farmers in eastern Nebraska raising hogs that is given the large cattle ranchers of the west and the feeders."

The Wahoo veterinarian explained to the committee that unlicensed and financially irresponsible "salesmen" offer farmers "cure-all" vaccinations at fractions of the cost that local veterinarians charge for tested medicine. When animals develop the disease, he said, the salesman is gone, the farmer is "hooked" and the law permits it.

Explaining that the purpose of the bill had been facetiously misrepresented at the time it was introduced and would be misunderstood if passed, Sen. Person asked that it be indefinitely postponed and the committee acquiesced.

The committee was in receipt of many telegrams from stock food companies selling by mail opposing the bill and about a dozen witnesses opposing the measure were present but not called when the bill was killed.

Responsibility Bill Laid Over.

The committee laid over at the request of Sen. William Metzger, its introducer, LB 23 which seeks to strengthen the law on responsibility of children, where financially able, to care for their aged parents.

Sen. Metzger said he was waiting for an opinion from the attorney general to determine whether it would be possible to have financial statements given the county judge rather than his proposal for a hearing before the county welfare board.

To Offer Amendments.

If the proposed change is possible, he said he later would offer amendments. There was no opposition to the bill.

"I have all the sympathy in the world for the needy, but I don't like chislers," Sen. Metzger explained. "This bill is aimed at the small minority, who if eliminated from the relief rolls would provide a sounder program for those in need."

Sen. Don Hanna, co-introducer, said that the bill was based on what he found in eight years as Cherry county commissioner was needed for strengthening the law.

The revenue committee advanced to general file LB 44 providing for completion of tax lists in counties that have not adopted the unit tax ledgers.

The banking committee reported out LB 6 and 7 providing for operations of the University of Omaha. The first would permit erection of dormitories, etc., with revenue bonds to be paid for from operation profits. The second would permit buying disability and retirement insurance for employees.

Butler, Case Seek Funds For Indian Blizzard Victims

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Congress has been asked to appropriate $500,000 for aid to Indian blizzard victims in the northwest. The amount is asked in a bill introduced by Rep. Case (R-SD) who said "the reservations, especially that of the Sioux at Pine Ridge, S. D., were hard hit and Indian office relief funds are exhausted."

Senator Butler (R-Neb) said he was seeking federal funds for relief of about 300 Indians stranded at Gordon, Neb. He estimated that those Indians, who went to Gordon as farmer workers and to do odd jobs, would need about $2,500.

Mrs. Ida Donaldson Passes Away At 88
Mrs. Ida E. Donaldson, 88, Route 2, a resident of Lincoln for eight years, died early Wednesday morning at her home.
Born Dec. 6, 1860, in St. Joseph, Mo., Mrs. Donaldson lived in Woodbine, Ia., for more than 50 years. She was a member of the Woodbine Latter Day Saints church.
Surviving are two sons, James A. and William F., both of Lincoln; one daughter, Mrs. Lillian Pett, Lincoln; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.
The word "furlong" originally meant a "furrow long"—the length of the usual acre strip in the medieval manorial system.

Optimistic View Taken Of 1949
By W. W. Putney
In Annual Report Midwest Life Co.

"In spite of increased living costs, insurance sales have been very satisfactory and the outlook for 1949 is as good or better than for 1948," W. W. Putney, president of the Midwest Life Insurance company, said in his report to the annual stockholders meeting Wednesday.
"While 1948 showed a limited amount of mortgage loans available, the last quarter of the year showed a tendency upward, and it would appear there would be an increase available for investment in 1949. There were no defaults in mortgage loans, stock or bonds at the close of the year," he stated.
The company's total policy loans at the end of 1948 were less than at the beginning of the year.
Entering Competitive Market.
"As to general business conditions, it would appear that many lines are catching up with their shortages and that we are entering into a competitive market once again," he said.
"There will be some natural readjustments as this comes about, but the general result should be healthy, and general conditions should continue favorable throughout the year."
On Jan. 1, 1948, the company adopted the new Commissioners Standard Ordinary Table of Mortality which necessitated the issuance of new rates and policies as of that date. "Their acceptance by the agency force in 1948 was very satisfactory," he said.
In his report, President Putney listed the firm's assets at $7,866,305.73, an increase of $430,667.37 for the year. Total new business for 1948 amounted to $8,073,126.36 and business in force on Dec. 31 was $43,215,879.12, a gain of $3,440,574.77.
Reserves Increased.
Insurance reserves were increased $304,994.77 and policyholders were paid $367,354.50. Premium income was $966,469.06. Terminations were $202,113.04 less in 1948.
Surplus was increased to $350,000 and capital funds, stock, surplus and special funds totaled $789,222.59. The company held $3,362,182.50 of its $4,796,901.31 bond total in government bonds.

Mortgage loans amounted to $923,435.41 and policy loans were $536,716.06. Preferred stock totaled $616,684 and common stock held was $424,658.64. The company had $273,942.03 in cash at the year's end.
Officers Renamed.
All company officers and directors were re-elected.
They are:
W. W. Putney, president and chairman of the board.
Clayton W. James, executive vice president and secretary.
Vernon L. Thompson, vice president and sales manager.
H. C. Henderson, vice president and general counsel.

Jean R. Kinder, investment counsel.
W. T. Young, field superintendent.
Frances A. Whaley, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer.

You'll be riding a Winner this winter!

LIGHTLY spur that Buick thoroughbred of yours. Feel it surge ahead with a sure-footed stride, stepping out in front to set the pace — with never a murmur or complaint.
Yes, you can have quiet, lively horsepower like this, and a chassis that's free of stiffness and winter squeaks — if you let us keep your Buick in tiptop shape.
Take lubrication, for example. For the price of a routine "grease job" elsewhere, we turn our Buick-trained men loose on a complete, tailor-made lubrication service from hood latch to trunk handle. They make a regular habit of extra care, such as dropping a spot of graphite on the carburetor heat-control shaft, or using a special, non-sleeve-soiling lubricating stick on your door strikers—and we could list a dozen more.
The point is, these mechanics are Buick specialists of long and patient experience — they know your Buick and its needs better than anyone else — and they take pains to keep you happy with it.
Yet you don't pay a penny more. Why not drop in this week?

Cold Wave Coming?
Let us set a date for checking over your cooling system sometime this week. Here's our prescription for protection:
Drain radiator, engine block and car heater — flush out summer sludge. Inspect radiator core for leaks. Check hoses for deterioration or loose connections. Examine thermostat control. Adjust fan belt tension. Tighten cylinder head. Put in genuine Buick antifreeze.

8-Inch Snow Followed By Bitter Cold

Closes Kansas City Schools; N. Dakota Towns Record -25

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—The weather handed the midlands a one-two punch today, following up a snow that virtually paralyzed some areas with bitter cold.

The Kansas City area was hardest hit by the snowstorm which began before dawn yesterday and ended shortly before midnight. The weather bureau recorded eight inches of snow.

Public and parochial schools in both Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo., were closed today. The highway patrol reported some highways in northwest and central Missouri were virtually impassable.

Many Travelers Snowbound. Hotels were jammed with storm-bound visitors and extra cots were set up in dining rooms and guest rooms.

Commercial airline schedules returned to normal after some delays because of the weather. Some buses and trains were delayed also.

The storm was rapidly moving northeastward out of the midwest early today. Temperatures headed downward over much of the mid-continent.

The coldest weather of the winter season appeared in prospect for the northern plains and north central states for the next couple of days. The cold wave accompanied by strong northerly winds swept southward through the northern plains and across the Mississippi valley.

The mercury plunged to new low marks for the season in some communities. Low marks included 25 below at Minot and Pembina, N. D., -10 at Miles City, Mont.; -15 at Willmar, Minn., and -10 at Minneapolis.

The high reading forecast for North Dakota today was 5 to 15 below and lows of 20 to 30 below were predicted tonight.

At Topeka, Kas., hospitals moved some patients into corridors to make room for persons injured in falls on slippery streets and sidewalks.

Thousands of homes in St. Louis were without electricity last night. Falling tree limbs, coated with ice by a freezing rain, snapped electric company wires throughout the city. Many telephones also were out of order.

Wire breaks also hampered long distance service and a number of towns in Missouri were without telephone facilities. Some Arkansas communities also were cut off.

Additional damage from ice was reported in southwest Missouri, an area still recovering from a treacherous ice storm last week.

The storm even forced the Kansas City Philharmonic orchestra to abandon its usual attire of white ties and tails.

The musicians came down yesterday morning for a rehearsal. Rather than risk going home in the storm for formal clothing, they appeared in street clothes for the evening concert with conductor Hans Schweiger's garb including a turtle-necked sweater.

Line Foremen To Meet

Dismembered Body Found In Calif. River ... 3rd In Recent Months

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—(INS)—Sacramento authorities sought today to identify the third dismembered body found in the American river within recent months.

The body found last night was that of a six-foot, headless man. Sheriff's officers estimated that the man had been dead at least two weeks.

The man's legs were knotted with a sash cord. Meanwhile police continued to grill Victoriano Corrales, 48-year-old laborer, who admitted the slaying and dismembering of Maria Pulido. Her body was found in the river Dec. 21.

Corrales denied knowledge of another female torso found in the river last June 21. He admitted smuggling Miss Pulido across the border from Mexico.

Woman Says Attacker Was Negro

No Arrests Made In Train Incident

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Mrs. Opal Holmes, who reported she was raped in a berth on a speeding train, believes her attacker was "a Negro in long underwear."

Under a physician's care at the home of Los Angeles relatives, Mrs. Holmes, 35, mother of two sons, through her husband, Chester, gave reporters what he called her first coherent account of what happened aboard the Southern Pacific's West Coast Limited near Oakridge, Ore., early last Saturday.

Holmes, who had been living with his wife at North Richland, Wash., and working as an electrician at the Hanford atomic plant, flew here to comfort his distraught wife. He said yesterday she related that:

She did not see her attacker, who she said crept into her berth while she was asleep. After she screamed, a serviceman in a berth across the aisle and another sleeping nearby told her they saw a Negro wearing long underwear running through the aisle.

She was examined by Coroner George Adler of Klamath Falls, Ore., when the train stopped there and was held for 4½ hours for investigation by Dist. Atty. Dayton Van Vactor. She said Dr. Adler gave his opinion that she had been raped.

The investigation continued all the way to Los Angeles where on Sunday two sailors were questioned for 7½ hours, then released.

Oregon authorities said they do not have evidence on which to justify arrests. Railroad and Pullman Co. special agents said no one is in custody. The agents said all members of the train and Pullman crews were subjected to the investigation.

Wood Carving Now Popular Hobby, Guild Is Told By Omahan

Herman Becker, Omaha sculptor, Tuesday night told the Lincoln Artists Guild that wood carving is becoming more and more popular and is being taken up as a hobby by many people.

There are several kinds of wood carving, and an artist is gifted for one of them, he said. "A whittler who is sent to an art school to study sculpturing would fail," he told the group.

Examples of art are needed from Australia, New Zealand, Korea and the Balkans for a coming exhibition, Miss Kady Faulkner, associate professor of art at the University of Nebraska, told the group. The show will be held in connection with the student UNESCO conference to be held at the university, and the emphasis in the show will be upon art from many different countries.

The guild meeting was held at Morrill hall on the university campus.

Annoying Habits Discussion Topic

A group discussion on "Habits Which Annoy Me" featured a meeting of the public speaking group of the Lincoln chapter of the American Association of Social Workers Tuesday night at the Lancaster county public assistance office.

Dorothy Collins served as toast-mistress and critics were Helen Fleming, Bernice Katske and Arthur Dunning.

Special speeches were given by Bernice Amspoker and Harold Rundle.

Today the average American eats about 1 1/5 pounds of nut meats a year, compared with 4/5 of a pound in 1909, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports.

Miles Takes No Stand In MVA Pick-Sloan Issue

In Wire To Humphrey

The MVA-Pick Sloan issue was left undisturbed and untouched this week by Mayor Clarence G. Miles.

The Lincoln mayor said today that he had shunned taking a stand on which method should be used in the development of the Missouri Valley basin in an exchange of telegrams with Senator Hubert Humphrey, (Dem. Minn.).

Humphrey, glanked by Senators Murray, (Dem. Mont.) and Gillette, (Dem. Ia.), visited the White House and discussed a proposed MVA for this area with the president after telegraphing local mayors.

Mayor Miles said that he had wired the ex-Minneapolis mayor that "I have not had sufficient time to study and compare the merits of both plans."

Kiwanis To Hear 1949 Challenge

"The 1949 Challenge" will be the topic by Bernard T. Caine, of Sioux City, Ia., district governor, at the Lincoln Kiwanis meeting Friday.

Members of the local club will celebrate the thirty-fourth anniversary of Kiwanis International which falls on the same day.

Merle M. Hale, vice-president of the local club, will read "The Thirty-fourth Milestone" a message to all Kiwanis club members from J. Belmont Mosser, St. Marys, Pennsylvania, International president.

All colors are seen as various shades of gray by a person with congenital color blindness.

Architect Clark Appointed City 'Planning Assistant'

Kenneth Clark, Lincoln architect, was hired as "planning assistant" by the planning commission Tuesday evening.

He will serve in that capacity until the services of a full-time planning director are secured, according to E. J. Faulkner, commission chairman. Confirmation of Clark's appointment rests with the city council.

Clark, a graduate of Harvard School of Design and the University of Nebraska, will receive $275 per month on a half-time basis. He is a partner in the Lincoln architectural firm of Clark and Enersen.

"The commission is extremely fortunate in securing the services of Clark," Faulkner remarked, "he will help us get the ball rolling."

Clark, who attended the meeting, indicated he would begin immediately the task of digging up data on pressing local issues such as the city-county building, auditorium and capitol environs.

"There are many things that can be done and should be done," Clark said.

Two Auditorium Buildings?

During discussions of the unsettled question of the proposed city auditorium's location, Wardner Scott, commission member, suggested that perhaps the problem could be solved by having two buildings.

The first building, an arena type, capable of handling basketball tournament crowds, perhaps should be out on the Rogers tract, Scott suggested. The second building, the theater-auditorium proper, might be located at the Fifteenth and N location, he pointed out. Scott said this arrangement would aid in eliminating friction concerning location.

Kenneth Lewis, commission member, pointed out that perhaps a "public forum" might be the best way to determine what public sentiment on the location question is.

Commission Member D. B. Marti suggested a public opinion poll. "The people are probably better informed on the subject than we think they are," he said.

Consider University Needs. Clark told the commission that any plans for the auditorium should take into account needs of the University of Nebraska.

Walter Wilson, commission member, admitted "a lot of water has gone under the bridge since the auditorium idea was brought up." He pointed out that $1,000,000 bond issue voted several years ago for the auditorium, was specifically authorized for the Fifteenth and N location.

No definite action on this or other questions was taken by the group, except to instruct Clark that these would be some of things he would have to consider.

Clark is a former instructor at the University of Nebraska and has assisted in slum clearance projects in Montgomery, Ala. Other experience includes recent work on plans for the Chadron and Ft. Kearny state parks.

Born in Liberty, Neb., he is 34 years old and has lived in Lincoln for about thirty years. Clark is married and has two children.

Faulkner reported that negotiations with two nationally known city planners for the full time post were still under way. He said an agreement might be reached within the next six months.

Engineers Annual Meeting—The Lincoln Engineers club will hold a dinner and annual meeting Monday at the Y.W.C.A. Election of officers will be held and past presidents and charter members will be special guests. The dinner will be at 6:15 p. m.

Master Plumbers Officers Renamed

The Lincoln Master Plumbers association and auxiliary re-elected all officers Tuesday night at the annual meeting.

Officers of the association are: Robert Deines, president; Everett Green, vice president; Fred C. M. Bickel, treasurer; M. H. Wittstruck, secretary; John Reinhardt, J. M. Reist, William Miller and Delmar Jewell, executive board members.

Officers of the auxiliary are: Mrs. William Miller, president; Mrs. Roy O'Brien, vice president; Mrs. J. M. Bickel, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Deines, secretary. A good year during 1948 and a bright outlook for 1949 were reported by the association.

HOWARD M. STILES. GRAND ISLAND—Funeral services for Howard M. Stiles, 88, resident of Grand Island for 27 years, were held here Tuesday afternoon. He died Friday in a local hospital. Death was attributed to a complication arising from diseases contracted while he was a prisoner of war in Japan and China. He was taken prisoner while working on Wake Island at the outbreak of World war II. He is survived by his wife; two sons, Dale H. and Milo L., both of Grand Island; a daughter, Mrs. Dewey Lee, Grand Island; his mother, Mrs. John A. Wilke, Omaha, and two sisters.

the penalty. So what we need is a wholehearted turning back to God. For it is true still that righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people. Mr. Truman ought to emphasize that in his inaugural message—not that we have nothing to fear but fear itself, but rather, we have nothing to fear but sin. Away with the false prophets who cry peace when there is no peace, and give us prophets like Jesus and his forerunner, John the Baptist, who cried, "Repent or perish." A wholehearted return to God and His word is the surest way to lasting and universal peace.

HUNTING AND FISHING.

Lincoln, Neb.

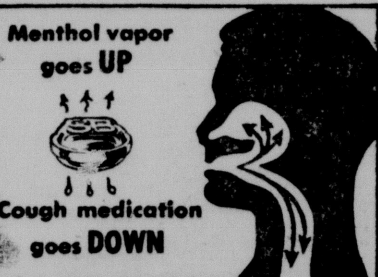

To the editor of The Lincoln Star, and Mr. and Mrs. Sportsman: It is high time something definite is done to protect the pheasant.

"I'm a gloriously plumed pheasant, I roam o'er the wide prairie. Was brought here to suit your pleasure—I'm a beautiful bird you'll agree."

This bird must not only be protected from the ravages of blizzard and flood but also from the dude sportsman and teen-ager who shoot anything from a meadow-lark to a tin can on the post of a rancher's fence. We need a ban on all automatic and pump shotguns. For you know as well as I do that most hunters forget to plug them, and it is impossible for game wardens to check a thousand guns on the morning of the open season. There is much ado about game conservation and a lot of money spent on literature dealing with the subject, but when it is necessary to reduce the day's bag to two birds it is time to close the open season entirely for one or two years. I know several so-called sportsmen who boast of doing most of their pheasant shooting from the highway—"pot shooting" from the car"—a dangerous pastime.

As to fishing, very few of us have the time or the money to drive three to five hundred miles for a mess of fish; there should be plenty of good fishing within 30 miles of Lincoln, in the Platte and in the Blue. But when one sees hundreds of set lines through which the channel cat has to run the gauntlet he is not surprised to return home empty-handed. Pretty pictures, both oratorical and printed, do not mean a thing unless backed up by action. We all know good fishing exists in the western part of the state, also in Canada and Alaska—what we want is good fishing here in Lancaster county, the construction of fish runways where dams illegally close running streams. The Better Fishing Organization of Lincoln is an active body of sportsmen and has proved a valuable asset in bringing the attention of the game commission to our needs. I am still opposed to wasting time and money on waters where game fish cannot live and carnivorous carp feed on the spawn of their aristocratic brothers.

Truman Takes Over Capital; Asks Full Help In Peace Fight

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Harry S. Truman took over the capital city today to the echoing strains of "I'm Just Wild About Harry." The man from Missouri plunged into a gay round of inaugural festivities with a promise to fight on for world peace and for a "fair deal" legislative program at home. And he asked all democrats in congress to co-operate, asserting "I know that is exactly what they are going to do."

Mr. Truman's promise and his appeal were in informal remarks last night at the $15-a-plate dinner of the Truman-Barkley club, the sendoff ceremony for inauguration week. He and Vice President-elect Barkley, who will take their oaths of office tomorrow, appeared together for the first time in the current celebrations. The band struck up the traditional "Hail to the Chief" as the president entered the Mayflower hotel banquet hall, arm in arm with Barkley, but quickly changed to "I'm Just Wild About Harry," a familiar theme during the Truman presidential campaign. A wave of applause and cheering swept over the throng of 2,500 party faithful. Mr. Truman told his audience he and Barkley "expect to carry out the policies and principles laid down in the democratic platform." That is why, he said, "I am anxious for the senators and the representatives who are democrats in the congress of the United States to co-operate with us, and I know that is exactly what they are going to do."

Several Negroes were among the guests at the Truman-Barkley club dinner. As the table of Welburn Mayock of Los Angeles, general counsel of the democratic committee, sat William L. Houston, Washington Negro lawyer; Clotilde Houston, his daughter-in-law; and Albert Almons, Negro piano player. Elliot Paul, novelist and Mayock's son-in-law, presided there when Mayock had to go to the speakers' table.

Kearney Railroader Killed As Snowplow Overtakes

Took Workers Eight Hours To Free Body

Another Brakeman Suffers Injuries

STAPLETON, Neb. — (AP) — Workers using torches to cut away metal early today succeeded in removing from a wrecked locomotive the body of T. L. Redman, 42, of Kearney, a railroad brakeman.

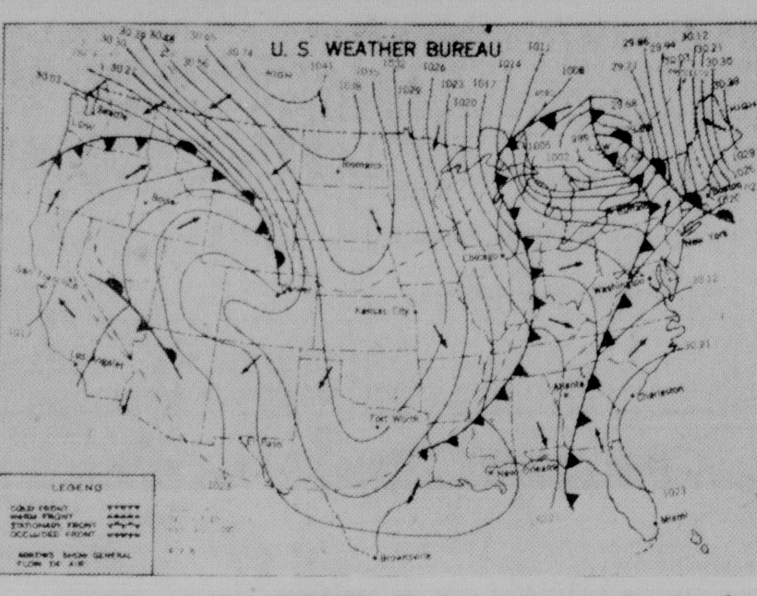

Redman, working on a snowplow train, was killed yesterday when the wedge snowplow smashed into a 14-foot frozen trestle, and overturned in such a way as to shear off the side of both locomotives which were pushing it.

Suffered Shock. Redman's body was found wedged between the engine and the tender. It had been there more than eight hours when it finally was reached and removed. Injured and hospitalized at Arnold was Eugene H. Rock, 34, also of Kearney, a railroad brakeman. He had cuts about the neck and face and also suffered from shock.

A doctor, fighting wind, snow and bitter cold, reached the scene (about six miles east of Stapleton) with the help of a four-wheel drive truck and horses. A plane piloted by Clarence Romans of Arnold subsequently landed nearby and took the injured man to a hospital.

Some other workers on the train were shaken up. The train consisted of a plow, two locomotives, a ballast car and a caboose. All were derailed. Redman was in the second locomotive. The rail line is a Union Pacific branch line.

Redman's death brings to seven the number of Nebraskans whose deaths have been attributed to the snowstorm.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The low pressure center over the lower Mississippi valley moved northward to the middle Mississippi valley between early morning and midday Tuesday and then moved rapidly northward over the Great Lakes to Ontario, attended by sleet, freezing rain, and heavy snow in parts of the middle Mississippi valley and warm weather with rain farther east. Moderate to heavy rainfall occurred in the Ohio valley, with 1 to 2 inches in central and southern Indiana, and heavy precipitation of over an inch in central Illinois. Chicago received 1.12 inches, nearly all rain. Snow depths on the ground accumulated 8 inches at Kansas City since early yesterday and 2 to 4 inches fell in southern and eastern Iowa. Light snow fell locally in Nebraska, with 1 to 2 inches or more of snow in places in the southeastern corner of the state. There was much drifting of loose snow in western and northern Nebraska. The cold wave swept over the plains and the upper Mississippi valley, causing temperatures of more than 20 degrees below zero in most portions of the Dakotas and 25 below was recorded at Chadron, Neb., and 20 below at Burwell, Neb. The trough of low pressure over the north Pacific states is attended by snow in northern border localities from Montana westward and light rains have fallen in several Pacific coast localities since early Tuesday.

Alaskan Delegate Opposes Butler's Voting Proposal

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Delegate Bartlett of Alaska said today he is against a bill by Senator Butler (R-Neb.) which would give voting privileges in the house to the delegates from Alaska and Hawaii.

The delegates now can take part in debates but have no vote. "Alaska is now in the submerged status of a colonial dependency," Bartlett said. "Passage of such a bill as that proposed by Senator Butler would only serve to put us in the never-never land."

"It would provide no answer at all to Alaskan problems. A voting representative in the house is not sufficient."

"We must have statehood with two voting senators and one voting house member."

Bonding Of Crop Dusting Plane Operators Urged

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—Operators of crop dusting planes should be bonded or carry insurance, in the opinion of persons attending a hearing here yesterday.

The hearing was on a proposed bill to license operators of such planes.

The insurance would be against damage to crops from chemicals distributed by the planes, or personal or property damage caused by the operation of the plane.

Those at the hearing argued against standardization of sprays and dusts used by planes but agreed that the use of at least one, 2-4-D, should be restricted.

The bill in question is proposed by the state aeronautics commission, state Entomologist R. J. Wallstrom and the potato development division.

Young Douglas was reported to have had only 2½ hours of dual flying instruction.

No date has been set for a hearing.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Are there great cycles of wet and dry weather?

No, says a North Dakota archeologist.

The National Park Service quotes George F. Will of North Dakota agricultural college, one of many archeologists who have surveyed sites to be flooded in connection with power development of the Missouri and other river control projects.

"Just recently the findings of archeological investigations in the Missouri river basin have resulted in a new interpretation of climatic fluctuations in the area of the plains states," a park service statement said.

January, The Two-Faced Month

NOW WE KNOW ABOUT THIS TWO-FACED Janus business—and why January is the name-sake of the ancient Roman deity—Take today, for instance—January gave us a big, broad smile and at the same time nipped your bones right down to the marrow—

Ah, well, as four-year-old Johnny Roehl said to his baby sister, Eleanor, when she was crying for something she could not have—"Life is like that!"

WE HAD PLANNED TO use an engagement announcement of interest today—but saved it for the morrow instead—And we had news of another betrothal announcement coming up soon, and it involves a very attractive coed and a w. k. young man in the vicinity—

SOMEONE TOLD US that Charles Bowey of New York City was arriving in Lincoln Friday morning to be the week-end house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pegler—

Among the courtesies for Mr. Bowey during his stay here, will be a dinner on Friday evening for which Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Hardy will be host and hostess at their home.

THUMBING THROUGH our little red book we found a notation for Thursday evening and it concerns a no host dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Devoe have made reservations at the University club. Dinner places will be arranged for eleven, and the after dinner hours will be devoted to bridge.

THEN WE TURNED TO the page marked "Friday" where we found that the Pi Kappa Lambda fraternity, graduates' honorary for men and women in music, was meeting Friday evening at the home of Miss Alma Wagner, with Mrs. Clarence Emerson and Mrs. R. A. Bickford as hostesses. Forty members are expected to attend, and the program will be presented by Miss Mary Louise Boehm, member of the piano faculty at the University of Nebraska school of music, and music critic of The Lincoln Star.

Miss Boehm's program will include:

- Ballade F major, Op. 38, Chopin.
- Fantasia, F minor, Op. 49, Chopin.
- Images, Debussy:
  - Reflets dans l'eau.
  - Hommage a Rameau.
  - Mouvement.
- Etudes Symphoniques, Schumann.

HERMANN BECKER of Omaha was in town Tuesday evening to speak before the members of the Lincoln Artists Guild at Morrill hall. Preceding the lecture Mr. Becker, noted as an artist and woodcarver, was entertained by members of the Guild cabinet at dinner at Hotel Cornhusker.

At the meeting he spoke on woodcarving, and showed pieces of his work.

AND SO ANOTHER LINCOLNITE, Miss Jennie Morgan, is becoming successful in the literary field.

Miss Morgan, sister of J. B. Morgan, Lancaster county clerk, has had articles published in various literary magazines in the country, but her latest work is the lead story in the February issue of "Children's Activities," a monthly magazine published by the Children's Training Association, Inc. This is Miss Morgan's first story for children and its title is "A Message from Lincoln."

The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, February 1, at the home of Mrs. Bernard Church, 5326 Cooper.

MRS. IRVIN PHILLIPS
The marriage of Miss Wilma Lee Forshey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ola Forshey, to Irvin LaVerne Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Phillips of Douglas, was an event of late December. Mr. Phillips and his bride will reside on a farm near Douglas.

Realtors Warned Of Values Decline

The Lincoln Board of Realtors was warned Wednesday of possible declines in property values in the future by Allen Dowling, chief of the Division of Nebraska Resources, who spoke to the group's luncheon meeting at the chamber of commerce.

"Property values have declined in periods following prosperity such as we have had," he said. "Two things must be done to prevent the trend: farm production must be stabilized by the use of such measures as the Pick-Sloan plan; and, the flow of money must be maintained to keep farm prices up and employment normal."

Wednesday, Jan. 26, board members will attend the Better Business Bureau luncheon, instead of meeting regularly. O. P. Bancraft, president, said. Earl M. Burnett was program chairman.

BUILDING PERMITS
William Christline, 619 South 30th, alter residence, $750.

Man Buys Car With 1,700 Silver Dollars Saved In 25 Years

MOBILE, Ala.—(INS)—Marian Farrell of Mobile began putting aside silver dollars in 1924 toward a new automobile.

Yesterday he walked into a dealer's office and dumped seven-hundred "cartwheels" on the dealer's desk, in exchange for his new car.

The silver payment weighed a hundred pounds.

Crews Fight Burning Gas In Pipelines

Pumping Stations Destroyed By Blast

BATESVILLE, Ind.—(INS)—The Big Inch and Little Inch natural gas pipelines were still burning today three miles east of Batesville several hours after they blew up and destroyed two pumping stations.

Two of five crewmen on duty were burned slightly and returned to help battle huge flames which shot hundreds of feet into the air. Officials estimated "at least" $300,000 damage was caused by the destruction of the pumping stations alone.

The 20-inch pipeline fire had almost burned itself out by early morning but gas in the 24-inch pipe still burned furiously.

Houses Saved.

A southerly wind blew flames away from houses and saved most of the buildings near the two pipelines. A third structure was reportedly destroyed in the blast.

Authorities believed a power failure was responsible for the blast.

The strong wind shot flames hundreds of feet into the air and persons from miles around rushed to the scene.

Batesville Fire Chief Clarence Roell said there was no hope of extinguishing the flames and that the fire would continue to burn until gas in the pipelines was consumed.

Authorities said the flow of gas was cut off but that gas in pipes in a 100-mile distance between Seymour, Ind., and the Big Miami river still fed fuel to the roaring flames.

In Aerography Course—Jerome A. Rohren, son of Mrs. Lucy G. Rohren, 1927 J, recently completed naval airman technical school in Memphis, Tenn., and is now en route to Lakehurst, N. J., for a course in aerography. Rohren, who enlisted in the navy last June, is a graduate of Lincoln high school.

Vandalism Costly For Stella Youths

FALLS CITY—(AP)—A group of Stella high school students will have to pay for vandalism committed at the Salem high school with money from their own pockets.

After Stella and Salem students had a basketball and volley ball game at Salem, it was discovered that the blackboards had been damaged and that some of the ivories had been pried loose from keys of a piano in the room.

Subsequently, a group of teachers, school board members and students from Stella went to Salem and met with the Salem school officials to discuss the vandalism. After the meeting, the Salem school board said the Stella youths had admitted the damage and agreed to pay for it.

Commission Air Carrier Group March 1

tronics, mechanics, aerology, naval indoctrination and photography. Age limits are 17 and 40.

Two U. S. Chamber Officials Will Talk Here Monday

B. I. Noble, chairman of the chamber of commerce industrial committee, announced Wednesday that his committee is sponsoring the appearance here January 24 of two U. S. Chamber officials who will discuss "American Opportunity Through Individual Enterprise."

The two speakers are J. R. Pratt, manager of the northwestern division of the U. S. Chamber, and William F. Reynolds, in charge of the division's "American Opportunity" program. They will speak at a noon luncheon at the chamber.

Those wishing to attend are requested to make reservations as soon as possible with James R. Critchfield at the chamber, 2-6671.

Acheson Opposed By Wherry

'Appeaser Of Russia,' Says Nebraska Solon

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), labeling Dean Acheson "an appeaser of Russia," was one of six senators to vote against confirmation of his appointment as new secretary of state.

The vote of approval was 83 to 6.

"It is common knowledge that Mr. Acheson has been an appeaser of Russia," the Nebraska republican told the senate. "That fact is proven by the very actions of the foreign relations committee itself when it allowed only one excerpt of Mr. Acheson's testimony taken in executive session to be made public."

He referred to this quotation, released by Committee Chairman Sen. Connally (D-Tex):

"It is my view that communism as a doctrine is economically fatal to a free society and to human rights and fundamental freedoms. Communism as an aggressive factor in world conquest is fatal to independent governments and to free peoples."

Wherry said the expression "means there was doubt in the minds of the foreign relations committee." He added:

"Certainly there is still a grave doubt in my mind."

Although Wherry voted against confirmation, Sen. Butler (R-Neb.) voted with the majority.

On action by which the senate in effect killed the house-approved bill to exempt inaugural tickets from federal excise tax, Butler and Wherry voted with the majority. They voted 47-44 against exemption.

Navy Lease For Airport Ready In A Few Weeks

Final draft of the navy's lease on hangar facilities at the Municipal airport will be ready for city council consideration within a few weeks, John Jacobson, city attorney reported Tuesday.

He has just returned from Washington, D. C., where conferences were held with the navy by him and D. D. Erickson, city engineer. Major problems concerning the lease have been ironed out, Jacobson said.

The lease will be on facilities the navy is using in connection with its reserve pilot training program.

He reported that conferences were also held with the federal power commission and the federal housing authority on other local topics.

Pilot Refused To Fly Plane That Killed 14

... Said 'Unsafe' By CAB

SEATTLE, Wash.—(INS)—The "unsafe" label was pinned today on a plane in which 14 men died as the civil aeronautics board continued a hearing into the crash at Boeing Field Jan. 2.

Eleven of the victims were Yale university students and the other three crew members. Sixteen students chartered the plane to take them back to school after the Christmas holidays.

Emmet G. Flood, Jr., the pilot first hired for the flight, testified that he refused to take the plane off the ground.

Warned By Pilot.

Flood said that 49 minutes before the crash he told the safety agent for the civil aeronautics authority that ice on the wings and in the aileron slots made the plane unsafe.

Reporters asked R. D. Bedinger, regional administrator of the CAA why the federal agency had not prevented the take-off. He said:

"Flood got the safety man out of bed. He went to the home of another CAA man to do something about it. While he was there word came of the crash."

Bedinger said the safety man could not call the airport to forbid the take-off "on the strength of a pilot's phone call alone."

Dubuque Won't Buy Sioux City Snow

DUBUQUE, Ia. —(AP)—Sioux City won't be selling snow to Dubuque. Dubuque has its own. With a ski meet coming up and no snow, some Dubuque officials had talked of ordering snow shipped from Sioux City for the Longview meet. When that became out of the question because of the shortage of time, it appeared the meet would have to be postponed until a later date because of the snowless hills. Wednesday Dubuque has snow and Sunday it will have its ski meet.

Washington is a little vexed with Eva Peron's timing. . . She was not expected to send clothing for the district's needy children during our most lavish inauguration.

KIERNAN

And the state department is amazed at the Argentine gift. . . We hadn't sent them anything in 10 years except sharp notes and Spruille Braden.

Of course a little resentment attaches to the needy children. . . They have no right to be needy at home when there are so many people abroad to be aided.

But assistance is beginning to work two ways now. . . France is sending us a trainload of gifts and African tribesmen have gotten up a little fund to convert Chicago to Christianity.

Anyway, when the inauguration is out of the way we can get back to celebrating National Thrift week which arrived too late to influence the national budget.

Group Will Be Formed To Back Road Program

A meeting is planned here Thursday to organize support for the long range road program recommended by the governor's highway advisory committee.

The meeting has been called by R. E. Campbell and J. O. Peck, Columbus; W. B. Millard, Omaha; Cletus Nelson, Holdrege; and Oliver Stevenson, Nebraska City. They said an association probably will be formed and a secretary named to represent it at the legislature.

'49 Program Launched By Family Council

"Children in Trouble" and "Families First," films depicting the relationship of the home to the future happiness of children, were shown at the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of the family and children's council of the Council of Social Agencies.

Mrs. O. L. Webb, chairman of the family and children's council, presided at the conference, held at the Y.W.C.A. All agencies of the Council of Social Agencies and representatives of other civic groups attended the meeting.

The gathering served as a send-off for the council's 1949 program, based on "Anti-Social Behavior and Family Breakdown."

Sued For Divorce

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(AP)—Comedian Hugh Herbert is being sued for divorce.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
